Hacker Education Resources

A compilation of resources for the hacker community to access and learn from.

HackerOne Resources

1. Hacker101 Video Library

https://www.hacker101.com

Dozens of videos on top vulnerabilities. Free and open source on GitHub.

2. Hacktivity

https://www.hackerone.com/hacktivity

See a live feed of vulnerabilities reported and resolved on the HackerOne platform. Read full disclosure details and PoCs. Filter by most upvoted reports.

3. Hackboxes

https://www.hackerone.com/blog/Test-your-hacking-skills-real-world-simulated-bugs

Simulated learning engagements based on real-world bugs discovered on HackerOne. upvoted reports.

4. HackerOne Blog

https://www.hackerone.com/blog

How to SSRF, GraphQL bugs, read stories about hackers with our Q&As and more.

5. HackerOne YouTube Channel

https://www.youtube.com/c/HackerOneTV

See live hacking events in action, watch video interviews from over 50 hackers, binge on Hacker101 content or chill out watching our playlist of Hollywood's attempts at portraying hacking.

6. How to Win over Security Teams and Gain Influence as a Hacker

https://www.hackerone.com/fransvisitsvegas

Webinar and presentation by top hacker Frans Rosen reviewing his tips and advice to bug bounty hunters.

7. HackerOne Capture the Flag

https://ctf.hacker101.com/about

A beginner-friendly game were people interested in security can play to earn points and receive private invites to hack on new companies signed up with Hackerone.

8. HackerOne Discord Server

https://discordapp.com/invite/32ZNZVN

The Discord Server accompanies the HackerOne CTF were people from all over the world gather to chat and solve the challenges, ask for help, help others and talk about security.

9. HackerOne Free E-Book - Web hacking 101 book

https://www.hackerone.com/blog/Hack-Learn-Earn-with-a-Free-E-Book

Download this free e-book on how to make money hacking ethically. A great place to start for beginners!

Channels to Follow

1. Ben Sadeghipour (nahamsec)

Youtube Channel

https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCCZDt7MuC3Hzs6IH4xODLBw

Twitch Channel

https://www.twitch.tv/nahamsec

HackerOne's Head of Education is a hacker teaching people how to hack legally through different tools and resources.

2. STÖK's Youtube

https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCQN2DsjnYH60SFBIA6IkNwg

See a live feed of vulnerabilities reported and resolved on the HackerOne platform. Read full disclosure details and PoCs. Filter by most upvoted reports.

Books

1. The Car Hacker's Handbook: A Guide for the Penetration Tester by Craig Smith

A book made for those interested in learning how to hack cars legally for the students interested in hacking hardware.

2. The Web Application Hacker's Handbook by Dafydd Stuttard and Marcus Pinto

This book is revered as one of the go-to books for anyone interested in web security. It is used a lot in job interviews. It's a very hefty book but one can skip around to browse the chapters for small reads!

3. Real-World Bug Hunting by Peter Yaworski

A Field Guide to Web Hacking.

Podcasts

1. The Bug Bounty Podcast by Fisher

https://open.spotify.com/show/3yTTlfXH1avrI3FsXZyCpv

2. Absolute AppSec

https://open.spotify.com/show/7cFADf8rI47fVcPJ9Xd6Lh?si=mZ-2bH2SQZ6GyPyuyF8PVg

3. Smashing Security

https://open.spotify.com/show/3J7pBxEu

4. Cyber Security Sauna

https://open.spotify.com/show/1IZNKbGxw1FNLJspTZdYb5?si=CqIxmLBSQmm290N1rR-3TQ

Additional Resources

1. Portswigger Web Security Academy (Creators of BURP)

https://portswigger.net/web-security